MEMORANDUM OF LAW IN SUPPORT OF THE PARTIES' JOINT MOTION FOR VACATUR OF THE AUGUST 29, 2007 ORDER INVALIDATING
U.S. PATENT NO. 6,624,096 FOR OBVIOUSNESS

The Parties, Plaintiff, PBI Performance Products, Inc, ("PBI") and Defendant, NorFab Corporation ("NorFab"), respectfully submit this memorandum of law in support of their Joint Motion for Vacatur of the August 29, 2007 Order Invalidating U.S. Patent No. 6,624,096 for Obviousness pursuant to Rule 60(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

INTRODUCTION

This Court's August 29, 2007 Memorandum and Order entered summary judgment invalidating U.S. Patent No. 6,624,096 ("the '096 Patent") for obviousness under 35 U.S.C. § 103 (a). PBI appealed the August 29, 2007 Order to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. During the course of the appeal, the Parties reached a mutual agreement and settled the case. Please see the settlement agreement, attached hereto as Exhibit B. As part of the settlement agreement, the Parties agreed to "file a joint motion for vacatur of the District Court's Summary Judgment order dated August 29, 2007 that invalidated PBI's U.S. Patent No. 6,624,096." See Paragraph 3 of Exhibit B. As a result of the settlement agreement, the Parties hereby file this joint motion to vacate the August 29, 2007 Order invalidating the '096 Patent for obviousness.

LEGAL STANDARD FOR MOTION FOR VACATUR

Under Rule 60(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, a district court has the ability to vacate an order. Rule 60(b)(6) states:

On motion and upon such terms as are just, the court may relieve a party or a party's legal representative from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for the following reasons...⁽⁶⁾ any other reason justifying relief from the operation of the judgment [emphasis added]. Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 60(b)(6)

Thus, the Court may grant a motion for vacatur of an order anytime vacatur is just.

The Supreme Court has held that when the parties settle a case, as in the instant case, “[e]xceptional circumstances may conceivably counsel in favor of” vacatur of a judgment. U.S. Bancorp Mortgage Co. v. Bonner Mall Partnership, 513 U.S. 18 at 29 (1994).

ARGUMENT

In the leading case on vacatur, U.S. Bancorp Mortgage Co. v. Bonner Mall Partnership, the Supreme Court held that when the parties settle a case, as in the instant case, “[e]xceptional circumstances may conceivably counsel in favor of” vacatur of a judgment. U.S. Bancorp Mortgage Co. v. Bonner Mall Partnership, 513 U.S. 18 at 29 (1994). The parties have not found any cases in the Supreme Court nor the Third Circuit that have examined the nature of the “exceptional circumstances” required for justifying vacatur of an order.

However, in the Second Circuit, two cases have addressed the nature of the “exceptional circumstances” required for justifying vacatur of an order when the parties settle a case. In Major League Baseball Properties, Inc. v. Pacific Trading Cards, Inc., the Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit held that when “a vacatur of the district court’s order and opinion was a necessary condition of settlement... these facts met the ‘exceptional circumstances’ test of Bancorp.” Major League Baseball Properties, Inc. v. Pacific Trading Cards, Inc., 150 F.3d 149 at 152 (2d Cir. N.Y. 1998). In another case, Microsoft Corp. v. Bristol Tech., Inc., the Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit upheld the ruling in the Major League Baseball Properties case that “exceptional circumstances” existed when vacatur was a “necessary condition of settlement” and further stated that “[i]n granting vacatur, we observed that ‘the only damage to the public interest from such a vacatur would be that the validity of MLB’s marks would be left to future litigation.’” Microsoft Corp. v. Bristol Tech., Inc., 250 F.3d 152 at 154 (2d Cir. Conn. 2001). Because there is no controlling precedent in the Supreme Court or the Third Circuit regarding the nature of the “exceptional circumstances” required to justify vacatur of an order, the parties urge the Court to follow the precedent set in the Second Circuit.

Following the precedent set in the Second Circuit, the instant case has “exceptional circumstances” that justify vacatur of the August 29, 2007 Order invalidating the ‘096 Patent for obviousness. The parties entered a settlement agreement that included the grant of a “worldwide, royalty-free, paid-up license” to the ‘096 Patent and thus agreed to jointly move to vacate the order invalidating the ‘096 Patent. See Paragraphs 3 and 4 of Exhibit B. Consistent with the reasoning in Major League Baseball Properties, Inc. v. Pacific Trading Cards, Inc., 150 F.3d 149 at 152 (2d Cir. N.Y. 1998) and Microsoft

Corp. v. Bristol Tech., Inc., 250 F.3d 152 at 154 (2d Cir. Conn. 2001), the only damage to the public interest from such a vacatur would be that the validity of PBI's '096 Patent would be left to future litigation. Therefore, vacatur of the August 29, 2007 Order invalidating the '096 Patent for obviousness is clearly justified.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated herein, the parties respectfully urge the Court to grant the parties' Joint Motion for Vacatur of the August 29, 2007 Order Invalidating U.S. Patent No. 6,624,096 for Obviousness.

Respectfully Submitted,

3. Within ten (10) calendar days of the filing of the Federal Circuit's order granting remand, PBI and

4. The terms of that settlement are confidential."

9. Any disputes regarding this agreement shall be mediated in the first instance by a neutral mediator. Any action to enforce this agreement must be commenced in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.
